

MEET VICE PRESIDENT AND FOUNDATION TRUSTEE
Angela Jordan Dimit
(ILLINOIS AT URBANA-CHAMPAIGN)

Angela (Angie) Jordan Dimit is currently serving her second term as Vice President on Gamma Phi Beta's International Council. Angie also serves as an International Council representative on the Gamma Phi Beta Foundation Board of Trustees and is a member of the Technology Committee. She is a member of Omicron Chapter at the University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign where she received her Bachelor of Science degree in business administration and marketing and her Master of Education in human resources education.

Angie is the director of advancement for the Office of the Vice Chancellor for Student Affairs at the University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign. In this role, she cultivates and sustain relevant lifelong relationships with and among students, alumni and donors and creates and stewards a culture of philanthropy throughout Student Affairs at the university. She previously served as the director of advancement for the College of Engineering at the University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign.

For more than 35 years, Angie has been a communications consultant, specializing in professional and personal development, including team building, interpersonal communication, principles of effective leadership, understanding and leading change and customized services for organizations, such as etiquette luncheons and emerging leader workshops. She is a certified consultant with Wiley Communications.

With more than 25 years of volunteer service for Gamma Phi Beta, Angie has served in various education and programming roles at the international level, as well as at the local level as chapter advisor and affiliated house corporation board president. She has also served on various task forces and committees and has facilitated many Gamma Phi Beta programs and workshops.

Early in her career, Angie volunteered at the national level with the Exploring Program of the Boy Scouts of America for 10 years. In her local community, Angie has been an active volunteer for the past 35 years, serving in numerous leadership positions through her local parent-teacher association.

She served in leadership on the Urbana High School Executive Internship Program for 18 years, and on the Board of Directors as president of the Twin City Child Development Center in Urbana. Angie served on the University of Illinois Board of Sorority Affairs for more than 15 years, three years as chair. She was director and associate director of District XII of the Illinois Foundation of Business and Professional Women. Most recently, she served as co-chair of the Making Strides Against Breast Cancer Walk in Champaign.

Angie lives in Urbana, Illinois, with her husband John. She has two sons, John, who graduated from Luther College, and Jordan, who graduated from Ball State University; and daughter-in-law, Bri Dimit, who also graduated from Ball State University.